Using the Windows NT PostScript driver

If you are using Microsoft Windows NT, you'll need to set up a Windows NT PostScript driver with a Phaser 350 printer. You can select printer page sizes in the driver for Windows NT applications, however, TekColor color corrections and other PostScript Level 2 features are not supported by the Windows NT driver. Select color corrections from the printer's front panel or from downloadable utility files. Refer to your Microsoft Windows NT documentation for details on features in the Windows NT driver.
